

Submitted by: Kay - 2010-07-05 - 11:00:33

Prayer Request:

---

Please join us (family & friends) in lifting Stacy up in prayer as she is fighting the Giant of cancer. To date she has done quite well, she will have her second round of treatment Thursday. She has battled and conquered the expected side effects and now strives to be strong during this stage as she prepares herself for her next treatment. Currently, the doctors are pleased with Stacy's progress and body's reaction to the treatment. So hooray for Stacy!! Also, Stacy has a dear co-worker that has a wife who doctors say has a short time before she receives her heavenly rewards. As we know, God has the final say, and He doesn't make mistakes. Please pray for the Reed family as this is the time that strength is needed and can be felt through prayer. This has been an extremely rough year for this family, as her co-worker also lost his mother and grandmother in a terrible car accident a few months ago, so please continue to lift them up in prayer

---

Generated: May 07, 2024 05:38:04 pm